Commissioners Encounter Problems

The Coffee County Commission met in regular session on Monday, June 27, at the courthouse in Enterprise, and after a lengthy discussion, agreed to visit surrounding counties and look into their method of garbage pickup in rural areas and the problems they encounter. The discussion began when Engineer Leslie Mullins reported he had received telephone calls requesting that he move garbage containers to more convenient locations. Mullins said, "The containers are placed in areas where they can serve the most people. For the system to work, we must have the people's cooperation."

The commissioners discussed the problems which occur with the present system, and Commissioner Jack Hornsby stated, "There has to be a better way."

Commissioner Bennie Beckham suggested turning the entire system over to a contractor. "Turn everything over to the contractor," said Beckham. "Let him build his own land-fill and let him pick up the garbage the way he wants to."

A group of commissioners agreed to visit a county on June 30 and July 6 and study their garbage pick-up methods in depth.

The meeting began at 10:00 a.m. and the commission's first visitor was Mr. Wayne Parker, an agent of the Colonial Life Insurance Company. Parker presented a plan which could be added onto county employee's current policy at an additional cost of approximately $4 per month.

The commission voted unanimously to provide county employees with a basic policy and not to add on any extra benefits due to the additional cost to the employees.

Probate Judge James L. Sawyer presented the commission with a list of proposed amendments, and announced he was urging everyone to vote "yes" on Amendment No. 1. The amendment reads: "Providing for a Probate Court in each county with general jurisdiction of orphans' business, and adoptions, and with power to grant letters testamentary, and of administration and of guardianship, and such further jurisdiction as may be provided by law."

The commission received a letter from Civil Defense Director Moose Hope requesting they pay a bill in the amount of $154.95 for a scanner purchased from Del Electronics in February of this year.

The commission instructed Clerk Brunese Winston to check into the request. Engineer Mullins informed the commission that he had received a request from the City of Enterprise to move 12,000 cubic yards of dirt. The commission agreed to move the dirt for the city.

The board authorized Mullins to use whatever funds he feels is needed to remove rocks from land on County Road 86. The rocks are on county right-of-way and were left when work was done on the road several years ago.

Mullins presented the commission with a Road Bank Stabilization and Erosion Control Plan. The plan is a four-year program and includes installing flumes, drains and grassing. The program would cost the county $230,000.

Commission Clerk Brunese Winston reported she had received a good response to her letter asking various organizations and businesses for financial aid to be used in the Enterprise Side Program.

The Nutrition Center in Enterprise is allotted two workers, but city officials felt that since they were providing a building, electricity, etc., it would be fair if the county paid for one worker and the center paid for the other.

City Council Corrects A Pay Problem

The Elba City Council held a short special meeting Monday at 6:00 p.m. The meeting was called to clear up a mix-up on a policeman's pay.

The Council had indicated that even though incentive pay was being cut out, there was no intention to cut the present pay of any officer. However, in the shuffle, Assistant Chief Max Rayburn ended up with a $30 a month cut in pay.

The Council met and quickly agreed to adjust the pay of Rayburn to prevent any cut in his salary.

Another change in Rayburn's pay was to shift him from an hourly wage to a monthly salary, paid twice a month. This fact added to the original confusion on the new salaries.

The Commission met and quickly agreed to look into the request.

It was informed that Mr. Spinks, county carpenter, had gone as far as he could in building a voting house in Cool Springs. Spinks sent work he needed a bricklayer or blocklayer.

Approved resolution to continue Civil Defense program.

Escapes Captured Here Monday

Coffee County deputies were credited by Sheriff Neil Grantham with apprehending two escapees from a Montgomery County work release center. Grantham said that it was the fast and professional reaction by Deputies Ray Norris and Joe Spurlin that resulted in the capture of the two men on Monday of this week. They were caught as they bailed out a window and ran from a private home of relatives in the New Hope community.

Harry Lloyd Paige, age 39, and Larry Tate, age 31, escaped in a van from the work release center last Friday. They had been assigned to pick up other inmates who were working at jobs assigned through the work release center.

After escaping, they reportedly abandoned the van, kidnapped a woman from a convenience store, and forced her to drive them to near Tuskegee.

The local law officers went to the home on a tip. They were mainly checking on the automobile they were using and the possible use of a false driver's license. Their investigation later turned up that the auto was apparently stolen and the tag on the car was from another stolen automobile. When the officers drove up into the yard in the marked sheriff's car, they reported that the two men jumped out a window and ran into a field. The deputies immediately gave chase and caught the two men and returned them to the Coffee County Jail, and notified prison authorities in Montgomery. They were returned to Montgomery Tuesday morning by prison officials led by John R. Copeland, I and I Division of the Alabama Board of Corrections.

Driver's License Now Available In Elba

Area residents that need to renew their driver's license may now do so at the courthouse in Elba, as well as Enterprise.

Probate Judge James Sawyer reported this week that a new photo-license machine is now in operation at the Elba courthouse.

A driver may obtain a license from 8:15 - 12:00 and 1:00 to 4:45. A two-year license costs $4.75, while a four-year license costs $9.00.

Engineers Ponder River Problems

The U. S. Corp. of Engineers descended on Elba this past Monday. Six of the experts from Mobile and Panama City converged by airplane and automobile in response to a bombardment of requests from Elba Mayor Robert Folsom. Folsom had contacted the Mobile office of the Corp., Congressman Dickinson, Senators Sparkman and Allen, Governor Wallace and President Carter in an effort to get some help with on Pea River and the old power dam south of town.

The group was briefed on the situation in Elba during the last flooding conditions, current water levels, desires for recreational development and the possibility of reactivating the generation of hydro power at the now abandoned power dam south of town.

They were then taken on a tour of the entire facilities at the dam, shown the flood gate tubes and asked for recommendations on getting them operating again for flood control. Folsom also asked the engineers if they could help re-install the gates if the city cut them out and allowed spring rains to clean out the river.

The group was then taken down the river by boat to allow them to see first hand the situation and the possibilities for improvements.

As they were leaving, the senior man in the group told THE ELBA CLIPPER the procedure would be for them to return to Mobile, file their combined report with their headquarters, and that Elba would receive a copy of this report.

BRAINSTORMS

With Ferrin Cox

Sometimes the happenings of "up yonder" spill over into Coffee County. That was the case this week when two of our deputy sheriffs apprehended the escaped convicts from Montgomery who were accused of kidnapping a woman after they escaped. Deputies Ray Norris and Joe Spurlin earned their money Monday when they responded to a tip and before the dust settled, they had the two in cuffs and had an automobile reported stolen in Atlanta. Sheriff Granham was not all upset Tuesday when state officials picked up the two for return to Montgomery.

Apparently some farmers are getting enough rain now, because heart one fusing the other day about needing some dry weather so he could plow his peanuts! It seems the weeds were taking over now that there is some moisture in the ground. However, I am not going to worry too much about the weeds at this point. After we get a little more water, maybe I will help them worry about the weeds, but not today.

Heddy and I picked some blueberries last weekend. Now we had to go into the woods and seek out the wild bushes planted by the birds, because "progress" had long ago plowed under the berry orchard. I am always looking for bigger and better berries and found some right down almost in the branch where there was plenty of water to grow the berries. After leading Heddy almost to the best picking place, she stopped and said she wasn't going another step further and sounded like she meant it. I can't understand how a little bit of thorny bamboo and climbing over a fallen tree in the branch should stop anyone from those nice berries, but it did and she went back to those on the side of the hill (and in the hot sun). However, in the end, Heddy had a little more berries than I did.

Ronnie Jivwright was bragging about his fishing trip last weekend and just had to show me some of his catch. Now I know some people who can catch fairly big bream, but Ronnie showed me a shell-cracker that was larger than any I have ever seen anywhere! He had some bream I would have called big (weigh over a pound), but this old granddad made them look like bait fish. He topped it off by saying he had caught larger ones a month or so ago! In case anyone is interested, Ronnie and his family fish at Merritt's Mill Pond near Tallahassee, Florida.

Mayor Folsom had a bunch of folks from the Corp of Engineers in town Monday looking over Pea River and the old power dam site. I don't know what will come of the visit, but there was some highly specialized talent in the group. After climbing all over the dam and power house, Folsom loaded them in boats and had myself and policeman Daugherty take them down river to the dam. I don't know their impression on that, but they did see for themselves that it was just as shallow as we said it was!

Well, the Alabama Legislature actually met in special session, completed their work and adjourned in an hour. My fellow newspaper publisher, Jack Venable of Tallahassee, grabbed the headlines with his bill to combine the two special amendment elections, which is what the session was all about. Now Jack was a politician before he became a publisher, and I just wonder if maybe he has ideas of doing something besides being the Representative from Elmore County.

For sure Senator Wendell Mitchell of Lurvenne is looking to run against Bill Dickinson and move to Washington. Walking Wendell introduced a good bill that would do away with the expense of special amendment elections. It would also do away with you and I voting on something that pertained to only a city or county in some other part of Alabama. Mitchell knew it would not (or could not) pass in this one hour session, but probably he either wanted the public to be thinking about it or wanted to crank off the 1978 campaign early with some free exposure to the voters. Either way, I like the idea.

THIS OLD HOUSE

The house my Dad bought when I was in the sixth grade was a large two-story building dating back to early 1900. The rooms were large and the ceilings were 12 feet high. It was quite a change from our four-room home in Nottoway with six children, my family needed the extra space. We spent one summer cleaning and painting our new home and papering four of the huge rooms. The house was our first with a bath and we delighted in the new facilities. There was no central heating in it, but every room had access to a chimney. Two rooms had "grates," the forerunners of modern fireplaces. There was a cookstove in the kitchen, and a Warm Morning heater was later added to another room which we used alternately as a dining area and family room.

On cold winter nights it was fun to get a good warm fire going and listen to the radio with only the light from the stove. It was very comforting sitting in a warm room while the snow fell outside. Upstairs was my bedroom which had a built-in grate. The mantel was a large hand-carved oak variety seen in few homes today. We stripped the built-up varnish which had turned black over the years and enjoyed the natural wood color. My bed was an old four-poster that I shared with my brother when we were children. Some of my sisters were born in the bed, and it seemed a part of the family. When the weather was extremely cold, my brother, Leroy, and I had a technique to keep warm. We changed into our pajamas and stood in front of the crackling fire. When we got warm to the point of being uncomfortable, we jumped in bed and tucked the homemade quilts snugly around us.

In order to keep a fire burning all night, it had to be banked. This meant that coal was placed neatly on a low-burning fire so it would last several hours. The old house had three porches - one across the entire front of the house and two across the back. The downstairs had two doors opening on the lower porch, and the upper porch had two doors in the upper back rooms. My friends often joined Leroy and me for country music sessions after school which I'll tell you about in a future column.

JUDAH'S BOY KING
Joshua was only eight years old when his father died and he inherited the throne of Judah. His father, Amos, had been a bad king. And his grandfather, Manasseh, was perhaps the most wicked king Judah had ever known. But the boy, Joshua, had studied the life of his great ancestor, King David, and determined that he must be a God-fearing king like David, one who would bring Judah back to God. Second Chronicles, Chapter 34, tells us something of his reign.

Notice first that Joshua sought the God of David. God had been David's teacher, for his only school had been on the hillside with the flock, and yet he had been very wise. God had been David's comfort, as many of the Psalms testify. God had been David's greatest delight, for many of the Psalms are wonderful songs of praise and satisfaction. This is the last planned project for the choir to raise funds for their Mission Tour to Fontana Village, North Carolina, which begins July 23.

These young people say "Thanks" to each one who has supported and helped them in these projects.

The Babe Ruth and Dixie Youth baseball seasons have ended, and now it's time for the All-Star teams to get ready for their upcoming tournament games.

ALL STAR TEAMS CHOSEN

The Babe Ruth and Dixie Youth All-Star teams were chosen last week, and while the Dixie Youth teams seem to include the league's best players, the Babe Ruth roster does not.

It seems that every year conflicts between coaches result in some good players being left off the All-Star team. The coaches try to get at each other by not voting for players on certain teams, but the only one that gets hurt is the boy who is left off the squad!

This year in Babe Ruth, it was obvious that several coaches didn't get along, and their feelings toward each other weakened the team.

Maybe one day Elba can field an All-Star team that boasts the town's best players.

However, I doubt it!

COACHING CHANGES AROUND

It's that time of the year again when coaches start playing musical chairs, and if you're not careful, you can lose track of who is coaching where.

I've been trying to keep up with the changes and here they are:

***Coach Jimmy Alday has quit at Kinston to go into business.

Alday led the Bulldogs to a 4-6 last season, and appeared to be building the foundation for a winning team.

***Coach Larry Davis resigned at Brundidge and is the new head coach at Kinston. Davis coached at Brundidge for three years.

***Coach Mickey McCollough, an assistant at Brundidge last year and the head coach at New Brockton in 1975, has been named head coach at Brundidge. McCollough should lead Brundidge back into the ranks of winning teams.

***Coach Ed Comer quit at New Brockton to go who knows where? Comer coached at New Brockton for only one year after coming from Eufaula.

***Coach Jim Murphy has resigned at McKenzie to accept the head coaching job at New Brockton. Murphy is a 1967 graduate of Enterprise High School.

If any of you know of some changes I've missed, let me know. Oh yes, Elba still has the same coach!

SOFTBALL TOURNAMENT TO START

A softball tournament starts in Elba tonight, and it should be the best yet.

Included in the tournament are such teams as Superior Roofing (Enterprise), Seales Standard (Andalusia), Ft. Rucker, Greenville Bank, Budweiser (Troy), and Dinner Bell (Florida).

Carrying Elba's hopes for the crown are The People's Bank and Dorsey.

The tournament will last until Saturday night, and I urge everyone to go out and watch it.

It should be a goody!

IN CLOSING

Now that baseball is over, I'll have to tip my hat to Jimmy Hudson for the fine job he did as baseball director.

Jimmy got coaches for all the teams, and umpired all the Dixie Youth games.

Good job, Jimmy!

Troy State To Host Track Meet

Some 600 pre-teen and teenage track and field athletes will assemble at Troy July 2 for the first Southeastern A.A.U. track and field meet in Troy State University's Memorial Stadium.

The meet will include 84 running events and 32 field events for boys and girls. The top six athletes in each event from Alabama, Tennessee and Florida will compete in the meet.

The meet will begin at 9 a.m. on TSU's J. H. Colley Memorial Track. TSU track and cross country coach John Anderson is meet director.

Continuing, Johnny said, "In Saturday's round, my driver began to get me in trouble and I had to tie-off with a two-iron. I just couldn't make birdies due to the loss of length when I changed clubs off the tee."

"Broach is a fine golfer," praised Martin, "and will be a favorite in this event for years to come."

A field of 114 lefties competed in this year's tourney.

Johnny Martin

In an interview with Martin earlier this week, the Elba Country Club champ reported, "I played pretty good, but I waited too late to put the pressure on Broach. I was 5 shots down with nine holes to play, and 4 shots down with only four holes left."

Continuing, Johnny said, "In Saturday's round, my driver began to get me in trouble and I had to tie-off with a two-iron. I just couldn't make birdies due to the loss of length when I changed clubs off the tee."

"Broach is a fine golfer," praised Martin, "and will be a favorite in this event for years to come."
